

Link2Feed Self-Registration

Link2Feed is the registration system some pantries use.
Creating a profile helps us check you in more quickly.

Here's how you can self-register online.

(If you have already created a Link2Feed profile at another pantry, you do not need to self-register online.)

- Visit nifb.link2feed.com

Here you can preview profile questions, read the full Link2Feed Consent and Disclaimer Form, and contact us with questions. When your profile is complete, you'll be registered with every pantry in the Food Bank network that uses Link2Feed. If you're unable or choose not to complete the registration, don't worry: you do not need a profile to continue receiving groceries. The website only works on Chrome, Firefox or Safari browsers.

- To find more pantries near you, visit our Pantry Locator at SolveHungerToday.org/Get-Help

Please be aware that some pantries use different registration systems that may require different information.

Here are some important reminders about Link2Feed.

- No government body has access to Link2Feed.

- Your information will be protected, and can only be shared in rare and specific cases.
